Dear Colleague,

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to the 31st GEEW, a teaching course which plans to reinforce the established pattern of combining live demonstrations with a direct interaction between the participants, the moderators and the experts performing procedures.

The learning objectives of the course will be:

1. Evaluation of established and most recent endoscopy techniques, assessing their clinical utility in a multidisciplinary setting
2. Description of pre-therapeutic assessment and post-treatment follow up
3. Detailed technical teaching of various procedures
4. Providing scientific appraisal of technologies, evidence-based, with comparison with other approaches
5. Recognition of the role of endoscopy in digestive diseases and its interaction with gastroenterology, surgery, oncology, radiology and transplantation
6. Teaching on prevention and treatment of complications

The intended audience includes gastroenterologists, surgeons, internists and oncologists, nurses and GI assistants, MD in training and medical students, biomedical engineers and industry partners.

The format is based on live cases transmitted from Erasme Hospital, produced by a professional team in collaboration with experienced physicians and dedicated to provide the most comprehensive illustration of the procedures. All over the procedures, information summarizing the most recent publications will be displayed to reinforce the discussion based on scientific evidence.

The cases will be performed by world-renowned experts in collaboration with local physicians and nursing staff. Every procedure will be performed by at least 2 experts working together in order to ensure maximal interaction with the audience. The scientific programme also offers 5 State-of-the-Art lectures, Questions and Answers sessions, 2 medical quizzes and 2 tricks and tips dedicated lectures.

The course language is English. Simultaneous translation into French will be provided.

The meeting will take place in the Brussels Exhibition Centre, close to the famous “Atomium”. Online registration is available from now at www.live-endoscopy.com. You may contact the Course Coordinator (nancy.beauprez@erasme.ulb.ac.be) for any information.

CME and UEMS certifications will be provided as well as free access to the very effective Brussels public transportation system and catering during the meeting.

We are looking forward to welcoming you to this 31st GEEW!
