Paul Fockens
ESGE President

Dear Endoscopy readers
and ESGE members,

it is a great honor for me to have been appointed President of the European Society of Gastrointestinal Endoscopy during the UEGW in my hometown. ESGE has become a much more productive society over the past decade and the cooperation with the journal Endoscopy has flourished from this increased activity. ESGE has been more active on many levels. The educational efforts as well as the production of a number of important guidelines are possibly the two most visible endeavours. ESGE guidelines are always published in our official journal Endoscopy and are available with free access on line. Through the guidelines and our educational efforts, we hope to improve the quality of endoscopy in greater Europe. My personal challenge for the coming two years is to further the growth and development of the society. Undoubtedly the new ESGE governing board will play a significant role in this respect. Please go to www.esge.com to read more and become active within ESGE committees.

Yours sincerely, Paul Fockens

Quality in Endoscopy: Upper GI & neoplasia
April 19 – 20, 2013
Lisbon, Portugal

ESGE and ESDO look forward to joining forces again for the upcoming Quality in Endoscopy symposium, this time with the theme Upper GI endoscopy & neoplasia, in Lisbon in spring 2013.

Important upcoming deadlines

Abstract submission

Deadline: February 1, 2013

€ 500 travel grants plus waived registration fees for top accepted abstracts!

Travel grants are available to top abstract authors under 40 years of age. All other authors of accepted abstracts for poster presentation will be offered the reduced early bird registration fee.

Case submission

Deadline: February 15, 2013

Case presentations are an integral part of our Quality in Endoscopy symposia and have proven a great success. In the past, the speakers provided cases, however we would like to invite all those planning to attend this symposium to submit interesting case presentations.

One author per selected case presentation will receive a reduced registration fee of €150.

Early bird registration

Deadline: February 15, 2013

ESGE Individual Members, ESDO Members and ESGENA Members are eligible to receive a 50% earlybird registration fee reduction.

More information regarding the programme, faculty and abstract submission may also be found on the website at www.quality-in-endoscopy.de. For further details regarding ESGE Individual Membership application and benefits, visit www.esge.com.
