ESGE Days 2018

April 19–21, 2018
Budapest, Hungary

ESGE Days 2018 offers a brand new and very exciting educational programme that is entirely focused on gastrointestinal endoscopy. The organizing committee is working hard to develop an amazing, multi-faceted programme which will address the full spectrum of endoscopic techniques and technologies catering to both early career as well as well-established practitioners. As part of this multi-faceted programme, on the first day of the congress, ESGE has dedicated meeting space to host a full day session of the Hungarian Society of Gastroenterology (HSGE). Conducted in Hungarian, this session will include presentations on topics including gastric cancer, chronic pancreatitis, therapy resistant GERD, as well as the roles of therapeutic endoscopy vs. surgery in selected conditions. The HSGE session will run in parallel to other endoscopy sessions including “hands-on endoscopy training” and an Academic Skills Course.

Live endoscopy demonstrations will supplement the expert led didactic lectures and attendees will have the chance to put what they learn into practice in the ESGE Learning Center. The combination of learning modalities ensures a lively, interactive meeting which will help develop the daily clinical practice of all participants.

The special registration rates for ESGE Individual Members make this event even more attractive. With savings of 50% compared to non-member rates. There has never been a better time to join ESGE as an individual member and you do not want to miss ESGE Days 2018! For more information visit www.esgedays.org
