

ESGE News and Upcoming Events November 2017

Abstract & Video submission deadline approaching!

ESGE Days 2018

April 19–21, 2018
Budapest, Hungary

Submit your abstracts and videos by Wednesday, November 15, 2017 for your chance to be part of ESGE Days 2018.

Don't miss out on your opportunity to be part of the ESGE Days 2018 programme and to promote your research on an international stage.

All accepted abstracts will be published in Endoscopy and top abstract authors will be invited to submit original articles to Endoscopy with priority review and processing.

Travel grants will also be awarded to the top abstracts.

For more information and to submit your abstract, visit the ESGE Days 2018 website www.esgedays.org

Register now at the best rates

The registration early bird deadline is approaching. Register before Sunday, December 3, 2017 to secure the best rates. Early registration will also ensure you have first pick of optional extras such as the Academic Skills Course and hands-on training sessions where participant numbers are limited!

Are you an ESGE member? Take advantage of both the early bird registration rate and your membership reduction. Not a member? Then sign up now at www.esge.com.

WEO/EETC/ESGE Program for Endoscopic Teachers (PET)

PET faculty and participants

ESGE joined forces on this established WEO course which was hosted on September 14–16, 2017 by Professor Guido Costamagna at the EETC, hospital Gemelli in Rome. Forty three participants from fifteen countries participated in this incredible program. For the first time, in addition to the outstanding international faculty, this PET course included live endoscopy teaching broadcast from the endoscopy unit.

ESGE would like to thank WEO and EETC for the opportunity to train the endoscopic teachers in Europe and beyond. A special thank you and appreciation also to the ESGE member societies for selecting and supporting endoscopic teachers and thus contributing to increase the quality level of endoscopic interventions.
