Introducing the new ESGE Postgraduate Course which will be launched during ESGE Days 2019

The ESGE Postgraduate Course (PGC) takes place on Thursday, April 4, 2019 and aims to deliver informative and applicable sessions that have been developed with both fellows in training and established doctors in mind:

Training Courses

These sessions are designed for colleagues who recently graduated and will be of interest to all those seeking sub-specialisation in a specific topic.

PGC lectures

European and world experts will lead sessions on a variety of topics which are relevant to the daily practice of all endoscopists. Designed to encourage discussion and interaction, this post-graduate course provides a great opportunity to pick up tips and tricks from the best.

Academic Skills Course (maximum 60 participants)

Get your academic career on the right track with the ESGE Academic Skills Course. This expert led, seminar series will cover various aspects of the academic process to make sure you avoid the pitfalls and yield the best results.

For more information about the congress and to register, please visit the website: www.esgedays.org

ESGE Learning Area

This is one event during the second half of the year that you should not miss. All of the offerings in the ESGE Learning Area at UEG Week are open to the delegates of the conference. The most popular one is without a doubt the hands-on training that runs from Saturday to Monday. In order to secure a high standard of quality the number of participants at each work table is limited. Tickets are free, but need to be secured in advance. ESGE members have the opportunity to pre-register online via the members section of the ESGE website. All others can come to the desk in the Learning Area for same-day registration.

It's worth it! Volunteer doctors and nurses teach good endoscopy, showing standard and advanced procedures with state of the art equipment.

For anyone keen on meeting renowned experts in person, the ESGE Lecture Theatre is where they should aim to go. Leading doctors in their field present cases, elaborate on their personal dealing with them and discuss the how and why with another expert and the audience. This year you are also invited to a special presentation of select new guidelines that will be presented by members of the Guidelines Committee.

ESGE Booth

Please visit the ESGE booth at the Association village to be informed of ESGE activities and individual membership benefits.

If your home national society has a "dual membership" agreement with ESGE, you are eligible to join ESGE at a significantly lower rate (€150 instead of €195!).

For more information about dual membership please visit www.esge.com/dual-membership

There has never been a better time to join ESGE!
